OUR STORY

In 1986, my father, Merv Rumpel, set out to build a Class B motorhome of exceptional quality—one that would stand the test of time. While others pursued high-volume production, he focused on craftsmanship, precision, and integrity. That vision continues to guide us and has helped establish Pleasure-Way as a trusted name in the RV industry.

Each motorhome is handcrafted to our exacting standards, resulting in one of the industry's lowest warranty claim rates and reinforcing our leadership in the Class B market.

We're proud of our dedicated team—many with us since the beginning—whose passion drives everything we do.

As we celebrate 40 years, our commitment to quality, safety, and innovation remains at the core of every Pleasure-Way motorhome. We look forward to the journey ahead.

Merv Rumpel
CEO, PLEASURE-WAY IND.

MOLD TO MASTERPIECE

The construction of a Pleasure-Way XL Series motorhome begins in the welding and metal fabrication department, where skilled fabricators handcraft the floors, roofs, and side walls by welding tubular steel. This process is specifically tailored to the XL chassis and design, requiring over 50 hours of labor per motorhome—substantially longer than the typical two and a half days it takes to build mass-produced Class C models.

Our fiberglass department hand-fits each customized component. Technicians expertly mold and roll every part to eliminate air pockets and ensure a flawless, uniform finish. Using Sikaflex® adhesive, we bond fiberglass directly to the steel frame, enhancing structural integrity and allowing us to attach the one-piece molded XL roof without relying on multiple fasteners.
